Structure, governance and management

The Heather Society is an international horticultural society, founded in 1963 to promote and encourage interest in heathers. It has worldwide membership covering Europe, Africa, the Americas, Australasia and the Far East.

The management of the Society is the responsibility of its Council, which at 31st December 2018 consisted of seven elected members. It falls within the rules and constitution of the Society (2017). Each elected Councillor serves a term of three years before coming up for re-election.

The Council controls the Society's administration and finances, determines what activities shall be undertaken and may appoint committees as necessary to conduct the affairs of the Society.

Objects and Activities

- The object of the Society is to assist the advancement of horticulture and in particular the improvement and research into the growing of heaths and heathers and allied plants.
- In order to perform its objectives, the Society publishes three Newsletters per year to keep members in touch with Society activities and new developments. Due to lack of resources the Yearbook ceased publication after 2017.
- The Society promotes regional groups within the UK to provide an opportunity for local members to get together for talks, shows and to visit gardens of interest.
- Due to a lack of resources and diminishing interest a Conference was not arranged for 2018 although an AGM was held at the RHS Wisley Gardens.
- Members have access to a library of digital photographs and 35mm slides depicting all aspects of heather cultivation and the heather species and heather cultivars available. These provide an invaluable aid to lecturers. The slides had previously been scanned by the late David Small and more recently annotated by the late Jean Preston, and those digital images are gradually being transferred to the website.
- The Society has retired as the International Registration Authority for cultivars of Andromeda, Calluna, Daboecia and Erica due to not having the resources to be able to monitor and document newly introduced cultivars. However, when informed of new cultivars then the names, descriptions and if available, illustrations will be recorded within the website database.
- The Society has in the past supported three National Collections of heathers sited at the RHS Wisley Gardens, RHS Harlow Carr Gardens and Cherrybank Gardens in Perth. The last two have been de-registered and the latter has been re-located and is being re-populated. The National Collection at the RHS Wisley Gardens is in the process of being redesigned. There is also a National Collection of the genus Daboecia sited at the Holehird Gardens in Cumbria.

- The Society takes a great interest and supports the improvement of wild heather in all parts of the world.
- The Society provides financial stewardship to enable the viability of the Society to meet its horticultural objectives and maintain Charitable status.
- www.heathersociety.org is the Heather Society's website which during 2014 and 2015 was extensively upgraded replacing the older website in early 2015. The Webmaster continues to expand the list of Heather cultivars, on the website database, adding illustrations where possible. The Webmaster also maintains the Facebook page for the Heather Society which is linked from the website.

Achievements and Performance

Council has once again met three times in London during 2018 at the premises of Number 63 (Soroptimist) Limited in the Bayswater Road. The 2018 AGM was held during September at RHS Wisley Gardens as part of a programme of events held during a weekend.

The number of entries on the membership database on 31st December 2018 was 221. This figure comprised of 163 subscriptions and 58 persons or organisations not subscribing. The subscriptions include single members and invoiced institutions. Those persons and organisations not subscribing include associate members, honorary members, life members, affiliated societies and those persons, libraries and institutions receiving complimentary publications. For comparison, the number of entries on the membership database on 31st December 2017 was 222. Whilst members were lost during 2018 for various reasons the loss was, in part, offset by new members joining during 2018, the majority using the PayPal method of payment on the website.

The Society provided, for members, three Newsletters. Extensive information is also available to members and the public via the website with additional information available to the members through a members' only area.

Review of the Year

During 2018 Council continued to be concerned with publicity and promotion of its work in an attempt to improve the membership.

- The website can be edited by both the Webmaster and the Hon. Treasurer/Membership Secretary and can be kept up to date, on a daily basis, if required.
- Co-operation has continued with "Plant Heritage".

The Heather Society -

Trustees' Annual Report and Accounts for the Year ended 31 December 2018

- Research has continued with a trickle of new cultivars being brought to the attention of the Society.
- A Cutting Exchange service, for the use of the members, is administered by a member, Daphne Everett, who retired as the Bulletin Editor during 2016. The Society hopes that this service will go some way to helping to preserve some of the older cultivars that are now unavailable commercially.
- The Society attended the Plant Society weekend, in June, at RHS Wisley Gardens where Council Member, John Hall, put up a stand with the intention of educating the public in the art of Heather cultivation and to promote heathers and the Society.
- The Society was associated with a display stand at the RHS Hampton Court Flower Show, in July, where a Silver Gilt Award was received by the Nursery whose staff designed and erected the stand. This event was open to the public for several days and attempted to raise the profile of the Society by advising the public on all aspects of heather cultivation.
- The Home Counties Group had an Autumn meeting at RHS Wisley Gardens which was part of the AGM weekend. During the second half of that same weekend members visited the garden at Champs Hill, W. Sussex and the The Savill Garden at Windsor. The events of the weekend, other than the AGM, were open to members of the public.
- The North East Group held events, but these needed the support of other local societies to be viable.
- The Yorkshire Group continued to meet but had few members at each meeting.
- There was no meeting in the Midlands area.
- There was no meeting in the South West area.
- At the AGM in September 2018 the floor considered the formation of a not for profit Unincorporated Association to inherit the legacy of The Heather Society. Possible names for the new society were considered.

Heather Collections

RHS Wisley Gardens - this is a National Collection and the heather beds are currently being redeveloped with plants grown from cuttings taken from the original National Collection. Council Member, John Hall together with his daughter Molly have been responsible for the production of the plants.

RHS Harlow Carr Gardens - much extra planting has previously occurred near to the new Bramall Learning Centre but the plantings do not have National Collection status.

The Heather Society -

Trustees' Annual Report and Accounts for the Year ended 31 December 2018

Riverside Park, Perth - the original heather beds formed a National Collection and were in the Cherrybank Gardens, an area which has now been redeveloped for housing. The heather collection is being re-established at Riverside Park, alongside the Tay and near the city centre. Currently the plantings are not listed by "Plant Heritage" and hence not a National Collection. In September 2016 the area was visited by members of the Heather Society during the 2016 Annual Conference held in Perth. Close ties are maintained with the volunteers who maintain the heather beds.

Holehird Cumbria - within this garden is a collection of the cultivars from the genus Daboecia and this has been awarded National Collection status. Contact is maintained with the volunteers who maintain the Collection.

Financial review

As has been the case for several years the expenditure was greater than income with investments providing useful income to meet a shortfall in membership subscriptions. With low key and careful expenditure on the website and publications then the Society will remain financially viable and able to maintain members' and public benefits.

Reserves Policy

The Heather Society is now dependent on its reserves, which were built up in the early years of the Society when membership was much greater and with the level of subscriptions reducing due to the declining membership the Society increasingly relies on the reserves to provide an income stream. However, it was the wish of the members, at the 2017 AGM, that the reserves be put to good purposes and during 2018 progress was made towards liquidating the investments.

Public Benefits

The aim of the Heather Society is to assist the advancement of horticulture and the improvement of plants and research into the growing of heaths and heathers. The Society is a low-cost charity - annual membership subscription for 2018 was £10 for UK and overseas residents.

1. Research

This includes:

- a) Ongoing assessment of cultivars and provision of a list of recommended cultivars.
- b) Description of cultivars and taking note of new registrations when informed.
- c) Contribution to discussions on the correct naming of heathers at species level as well as cultivars both in the UK and elsewhere.
- d) Liaison with botanical institutes e.g. RHS, South African National Biodiversity Institute, South African Botanical Society Kirstenbosch and University of Stellenbosch.

The Heather Society -

Trustees' Annual Report and Accounts for the Year ended 31 December 2018

- e) Co-operation with a sister heather society in North America. Regretfully the European Societies are no longer active.

2. Education

- a) Heather collections are open for the public to view.
- b) Training gardeners - a few members assist in the education of gardeners and accept invitations to give talks to garden and horticultural societies on the use of heathers and their cultivation.
- c) Society's Publications, i.e. Newsletters are available to members, including back issues to new members whilst the Society's publication, "Everyone can grow Heathers" is available for sale. The Newsletters and the previously published Yearbooks and Bulletins are also available to members via the website. During 2017 the Bulletin was replaced by a Newsletter and due to lack of resources the Yearbook was last published in 2017.
- d) A list of 100 recommended cultivars is available online and in the 2012 Yearbook.
- e) Comprehensive descriptions of cultivars that are commercially available in the UK are provided on the website as are cultivars that have all but disappeared from commercial production. The Webmaster strives to create an ever-growing bank of illustrations to enhance the cultivar descriptions.
- f) The International Register of Heather Names has been professionally scanned and is available to members on the website.
- g) Response is given to queries from the general public about all aspects of heathers, especially to questions sent in through the website or via Facebook from all over the world.
